MUNICH PSYCHIATRY LECTURE SERIES 2018-19

Simone Eickhoff | FZ-Juelich
Looking back to move forward:
Brigading the gap - From large scale
aggregation to individual prediction
12th March 2019

Fabian Theis | HHZ MUC
Machine learning in large-scale
single cell genomics
06th June 2019

Gouping Feng | MIT, USA
Dissecting synaptic and circuitry mechanisms of psychiatric disorders
25th June 2019

Elizabeth A. Heller | UPENN, USA
Chromatin-directed alternative splicing
in brain reward regions
16th October 2018

Simon Eickhoff | FZ-Juelich
Looking back to move forward:
Brigading the gap - From large scale
aggregation to individual prediction
12th March 2019

Catherine Harmer | Oxford, UK
How do antidepressants work?
02nd April 2019

Orly Reiner | WIS, IL
Modelling brain development in
health and disease using
on-chip organoids
16th July 2019

Brenda Penninx | VUMC, NL
Personalized medicine in Depression:
Hype or hope?
06th November 2018

Elizabeth A. Heller | UPENN, USA
Chromatin-directed alternative splicing
in brain reward regions
16th October 2018

Catherine Harmer | Oxford, UK
How do antidepressants work?
02nd April 2019

Orly Reiner | WIS, IL
Modelling brain development in
health and disease using
on-chip organoids
16th July 2019

Rüdiger Klein | MPIN
Central amygdala circuits that
regulate appetite behavior
29th January 2019

Rüdiger Klein | MPIN
Central amygdala circuits that
regulate appetite behavior
29th January 2019

Danny Weinberger | LIBD, USA
Modelling brain development in
health and disease using
on-chip organoids
16th July 2019

Karin Roelofs | Ru, NL
Neural control of human defensive reactions to social threat
19th February 2019

Kristen Brennand | Icahn, USA
Functional validation of the impact of rare and common variants
to schizophrenia risk
16th May 2019

Venue
Lecture Hall | MPI of Psychiatry | Kraepelinstr. 2-10, 80804 Munich
15:00-16:00

Unless indicated differently

Artwork by @avogado6
https://goo.gl/zTDv2c